It includes the PCO certification manual, material lists and 2 annual material review requests, newsletter, and educational events & materials at no additional charge. You also have direct access to a certification specialist's expertise via phone, mail or email. This fee is invoiced at the beginning of each calendar year. Operations must inform PCO that they wish to surrender by the annual update paperwork due date to avoid fees.
- Affiliate Certification Fee - Renewing Client: This fee is for renewing livestock affiliates with one central administration and sales exclusive to one operation. It covers the basic certification services for the upcoming certification season as listed above.
- New Applicant Fee: This fee is applicable to all new operations applying for organic certification with PCO. It covers the processing of the application for all new applicants (including new affiliates) and the basic certification services for the upcoming certification season as listed above. Payment for new applicants must be submitted before the application will be reviewed.

- Sales Assessment: The sales assessment fee is calculated on your annual gross organic sales for farming, handling and processing operations in the previous year. You will receive an invoice for these fees after we receive your application or annual update. No sales assessment is charged to operations with $5,000 or less of organic sales. Organic sales will be verified at the time of inspection. PCO reserves the right to adjust the sales assessment charge based on information gathered at any time. If you are an operation with multiple activities listed below, report the figure for the activity that makes up 50% or more of your organic sales.

1. If you are an operation that purchases and sells organic product(s), but you do not further process it, calculate the difference between the purchase and sales price of the organic products that you are certifying with PCO, and report that value.
 - a. For example, broker/distributors and operations that only re-package organic product
2. If you are an operation who requires certification for purchased product(s) but is claiming an exemption from certification for product sold, record the purchase price of product that you are certifying with PCO, and report that value.
 - a. For example, a brand owner that purchases bulk retail packaging provided to co-packers who only sell the sealed retail label packages.
3. If you are an operation that is paid a fee for services related to an organic product, report the income from the service fee
 - a. For example, operations that co-pack, handle and/or produce organic product, and do not "sell" products but are paid a fee for the service, this fee is assessed on the gross income obtained from handling or processing organic products

- Type of operation: Additional fees will be assessed for the type of operation (e.g. Livestock, Processor/Handler) if requesting certification in other scopes. These fees cover the additional time, paperwork, complexity, inspector assignment, and reviewer expertise required to certify operations that are more complex than those within the crops scope of certification.

- Material Review Fee: This fee is charged to clients and new applicants when submitting materials that have not been reviewed by PCO or a Material Review Organization. Material review fees apply beyond two new submissions annually for renewing operation. Each affiliate farm group receives two complimentary reviews annually, covering both certified and applicant affiliate farms. All other new applicants are entitled to ten complimentary reviews. This covers the time for the additional material review beyond what is already listed in the PCO Materials List and the material lists that are available through Material Review Organizations:

- Organic Materials Review Institute: www.omri.org/omri-lists, (541) 343-7600
- Washington State Department of Agriculture: <https://agr.wa.gov/departments/organic/input-material-registration>, (360) 902-1800
- California Department of Food and Agriculture: https://www.cdffa.ca.gov/is/ffldrs/fertilizer_OIM.html, (916) 900-5022

Inspection Fees:

- Annual and Initial Inspections: Operations are required to have at least one inspection per calendar year as part of their certification. The final cost for inspection can be highly variable from year to year. Part of the variance is based upon the complexity of the operation inspected and the ability to group with other nearby inspections. Operation complexity may consist of things like operation size, number of scopes to be certified, length of time certified, number of certified products and whether your operation has open compliance issues. Other factors that may affect inspection length include, but are not limited to, whether the operation takes part in organic international trade, whether uncertified production or handling also takes place onsite, or whether on-farm post-harvest handling occurs onsite, etc. PCO works hard to coordinate inspections in geographic regions to minimize travel time and expenses. You can lower your costs by promptly communicating with your inspector to schedule your inspection, organizing records and materials prior to the inspector's arrival, and offering your full attention to the inspection while the inspector is onsite with you.

The inspection fee includes the inspector's time spent in preparation for, execution of, and final production of the inspection report. In addition, travel expenses including time, transportation costs, lodging, meals, etc. will be assessed. Inspections may be announced or unannounced. PCO reserves the right to send multiple inspectors to complete inspections for large-scale or high risk operations.

To help provide an estimate for inspections, scope specific inspection averages are listed below. Note: that actual inspection time and travel expenses may be outside of the range due to the factors mentioned above.

Inspection Based on Type of Scope(s)	Average Inspection Range
Producer - Single Scope	$425 - $800
Producer - Multiple Scopes	$500 - $925
Processor/Handler - Single Scope	$550 - $1,300
Processor/Handler - Multiple Scopes	$675 - $1,500

• Supplemental Inspections: Supplemental inspections may be required through the year for different reasons: As compliance verification: Additional inspections may be required for operations unable to demonstrate adequate compliance during the annual inspection. These inspections may be scheduled or unannounced. Operations will be responsible for the additional inspection costs.

To add certifications to existing certified operations: Additional inspections required to add new fields, sites, or facilities outside of the annual inspection will be billed to the certified operation. These inspections will be scheduled with an assigned inspector. Operations will be responsible for the additional inspection costs.

• Unannounced Inspections and Residue Sampling: All certified operators are subject to unannounced inspections and/or product sampling for residue detection. No fees are assessed for unannounced inspections, with the following exceptions:

- If terms of a settlement agreement require that unannounced inspections are conducted over a specified period of time.
- If the operation requires additional oversight based on ongoing investigations, noncompliances noted in Certification Reports, or adverse actions.
- If the operation was unable to demonstrate adequate compliance during the annual or initial inspection, as documented by the inspector in the most recent inspection report.

In these cases, unannounced inspection fees will be passed to the client. PCO does not pass the residue sampling costs to the client, but we reserve the right to do so regarding issues of documented noncompliance.

• Inspection Cancellations: If you cancel a scheduled inspection with less than 5 days' notice (from the date of the scheduled inspection), you will be assessed the inspector's preparation time, reimbursable expenses (travel, lodging, etc.) that have been incurred for the planned trip, as well as an administrative fee stated in table above. If the inspector is in route, the client will be billed for travel time, in addition to the above listed costs. You will be responsible for rescheduling the inspection and paying all additional associated inspection and travel fees.

Administrative Fees:

• Expedited Certification: PCO offers a nonrefundable expedited certification service for those operations who have critical timing needs. This expedited fee is in addition to any applicable organic certification program fees and inspection fees as described above. Applications must be complete upon submission. Complete applications that are requesting certification within 45 business days of submission will require expedited services. Payment for expedited services must be submitted before the application will be reviewed or the inspection will be coordinated. While expedited services do not guarantee certification will be granted by a specified date, your certification request will receive priority processing and inspection assignment.

The success of the expedited service lies in your ability to comply with the National Organic Program and your timely responses to requests for information. If you enroll in the expedited services program, PCO provides the following:

- Application/Updated certification information receives expedited attention for initial review.
- Inspection will receive prioritized attention for assignment.
- The inspection report will be submitted within five (5) business days of the Exit Interview.
- PCO will review the inspection report within five (5) business days and identify any outstanding issues to grant certification.
- Expedited fee is per scope. If more than one scope is being applied for, the additional scope(s) are charged the expedited addition fee.

Certification cannot be guaranteed by a certain date and PCO has the right to refuse service for expedited requests if we do not have the administrative capacity to do so. In some cases, requests for this service may be outside of a geographical area in which we normally do business, require input manufacturer cooperation, or may be at a high-volume service period. In these cases, PCO will communicate if we are unable to meet your request of expedited service.

● Expedited Product Review: Rush review does not guarantee approval. PCO staff will review each product requested for review within five (5) business days. This fee is charged per product. A product review includes new products including labels and revisions to existing products including labels. Non-expedited product review requests are typically reviewed by PCO staff within ten (10) business days.

● Expedited Export Certificate: Rush review does not guarantee approval. PCO staff will review your export certificate request within two (2) business days. This fee is charged per export certificate request. This includes EU COIs, Korea NAQS, Japan TM-11, Transaction Certificates, etc. Any product reviews needed for export certificate approval will also be charged an expedited product review fee. Non-expedited export certificate requests are typically reviewed by PCO staff within ten (10) business days.

● Investigation Cost Recovery: Applicants and clients are responsible for reimbursing PCO for all costs incurred by PCO as a result of adverse actions, investigations, and legal issues involving the applicant or client. Adverse actions may include but are not limited to: actions described in Section Four, including sanctions, adverse actions, complaints, appeals, mediation, litigation, or enforcement actions. When PCO performs an investigation, which may or may not include inspection(s), and identifies noncompliance(s), the applicant or client may be responsible for the associated costs of the investigation, including conducting additional inspection(s). The costs that the applicant or client must reimburse include, but are not limited to: the costs of conducting mediation, investigations, conducting additional inspections, conducting discovery, additional monitoring and oversight in the context of a settlement agreement, and responding to subpoenas or other discovery requests. Costs are billed at the PCO hourly rate above. The associated costs may be billed either when PCO closes the investigation or when a proposed adverse action(s) is issued. The costs recovered are based on the amount of time it took to conduct the investigation, and may include review of investigation related evidence, inspection reports, and meetings.

● Reinstatement Fee: A reinstatement request often demands the dedication of considerable staff hours. Therefore, those operations who have been suspended from USDA NOP and are in need of reinstatement to the National Organic Program are assessed a Reinstatement Fee which covers staff time that is not considered part of a normal certification request. This fee is in addition to all other certification and inspection fees.

● PCO Hourly Rate: Where possible, PCO strives to list all of our standard fees within this fee schedule; however, there may be rare situations in which we need to apply an hourly rate for our services. Examples include, but are not limited to, reviewing a new client's organic system plan prior to the client submitting an application, transcribing paper documents to electronic format, bulk mail requests, and requesting PCO staff attendance at events.

Non-Payment of Invoices: If an operation has an invoice that becomes greater than 60 days past due and has not arranged or is not abiding to a payment plan, the operation will be issued a noncompliance. If the Non-Compliance is not resolved, a Notice of Proposed Suspension would be issued. If you are issued a Notice of Proposed Suspension for non-payment of fees, you may not correct the issue by simply paying the past due balance. Additional paperwork and information will be required in order to avoid suspension of your certification (e.g. Mediation Request Form to PCO or Appeal to NOP).
